PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE by Terry Janssen

At the Balboa Island Improvement Association Board of Directors Meeting the Directors voted in an additional three Associate Directors,

Liana Acosta, Pete Weitzner and John Cecil, making your BIIA Crew a total of 21 strong to make our special place even more magical. I missed one important character, a guy that has done, and continues to do, more for our Island than just about anyone, you guessed it...Jack Callahan. Jack was crowned to the special position of Director Emeritus which is a life-time designation of the Balboa Island Improvement Association. Without these community minded folks the Balboa Islands would not be what they are today.

In this issue of The Island Bridge you meet all the Directors so you can connect a face with a name. In the next issue we'll include more Island and Association stuff because we're out of room this time. I wish everyone a Happy Easter. Have a good day!

2022 Board of Directors

Dan Abbott
BIIA Co-Vice President
Pancake Breakfast Chair
Taste of Balboa Island

My wife Barbara & I moved to the Island six years ago after we walked here most days for over 30 years. I joined the BIIA Board 3 years ago and am currently co-Vice President. In addition, I chair the Pancake Breakfast, the Taste of the Island and the Volunteer of the Year committees. The BIIA does so much for our Island and I am very proud to support it.

Liana Acosta
Associate Director
Parade Sponsorships

I've been on the island for over a year and a half, and live in an original 1926 Cottage, I love it here! I'm a California Real Estate Broker and have over 16 years of residential and 9 years of commercial experience. I currently manage shopping centers for a private family. I have done anything and everything real estate! I come from a family of 5 girls and had an amazing dad who served in the Navy and have a beautiful mom who loves the island too!

Jack Callahan
Director Emeritus
Parade Co-Chair, Merchant Liaison,
Summer Concerts in the Park
Tree Lighting Festivities

I'm a 30-year Island resident, 25-year BIIA Board member. Past President BIIA, past President Balboa Island Merchant Association. Member of numerous City of Newport Beach Boards, Volunteer on local Newport Beach events. Employed by Newport-Mesa Unified School District.

John Cecil
Associate Director

I've been so lucky to grow up in this area and am a proud graduate of CdM High School. I was the co-founder and president of Innovate Media which was an online video production company. After Innovate was fully established, I launched and spun off Oculu.com as a stand alone online video advertising platform that has served hundreds of millions of video ads via the platform and it's media services division. As a side hobby I had been buying, selling (and riding) electric bikes for fun and decided to open an electric bike shop. That brought me to Balboa Island where we now have Cecil's Cyclery next to the ferry on South Bay Front. I have spent the last two years as a merchant and moved Oculu into the office above the bike shop where I run both of the businesses. I look forward to helping the BIIA and supporting the community and hoping that my media experience will provide a skillset to assist the organization in promoting its activities and events.

Georgie Fenton
Director
Holiday Home Tour, Parade
Event Sponsorships

I have been a resident of Little Island for nearly twenty years and a BIIA Director for the past three years, where I volunteer for events and serves on the annual Parade and the Holiday Home Tour Committees. I'm also a director on the BIMA and help to coordinate events for the benefit of Marine Avenue and its merchants. I recently opened a Coldwell Banker office on Marine Ave with six other agents. My husband Dick and I, who grew up on Ruby Avenue, are avid golfers and members of Balboa Yacht Club.

Larry Friday
Associate Director
Parade

I moved to Opal Avenue in the spring on 2018 and found paradise. I had just retired from teaching/coaching from Apple Valley High School and was looking forward to being back in Newport Beach. The people we have met are always so kind and friendly which makes it so difficult to leave even for a little time.

Have you ever noticed how the stress goes away as soon as you cross over the bridge? I am the father of two children and look forward to spending lots of time with 11 grandchildren. My involvement with BIIA began two years ago when Larry Kallastad asked me to help him with one of projects and I was hooked on being part of the community. I really enjoy being part of such highly dedicated and motivated group on individuals that strive to make Balboa Island so special.

Annette Giermann
Director
Little Island Liaison, Membership
Holiday Home Tour

My husband Ed and I bought our house on Little Balboa Island 23 years ago, and was a rental until 2007 when we decided to move here permanently. We lived in Pasadena for 30 years where we owned a Flower Shop and where our daughter, Aly was born. Ed and I were married 43 years when he lost his fight to cancer 11 years ago.

I worked for California Federal Savings and Loan for 10 years, I absolutely love living on Balboa Island, and feel very blessed to be here. I enjoy being a board member of the Balboa Island Improvement Association (BIIA) and, the Little Balboa Island Property Owners Association (LBIPOA). Both Associations work hard to make our Balboa Islands beautiful, charming and a special place to live.

Terry Janssen
BIIA President

My family members are native Californians, I grew up in Glendale, graduated from Hoover High School while my immediate family grew up in Orange County. I left Glendale in 1964 to become a SUN DEVIL, my parents moved to Balboa Island, I graduated and moved to Orange County, and yes, just like just about every kid from Glendale, spent summers and holidays on the Island.

I worked in the corporate world with companies like Allstate, Century 21, Great Western Bank and ended a corporate career retiring from the Mortgage business, B and C Mortgage. Fifteen years later here I am. I'm a re-tread BIIA President serving one year as president 2015 and re-joining the Board in 2020 as President.

Amittedly, 2020 and 2021 were a bit challenging and not as fun as I know this year will be. I have two great children, 51 and 43 (really), two wonderful grand kids and a First Lady for over 30 years.

When I joined the BIIA Board of Directors in 2010 I had no Idea what was possible for a volunteer HOA to accomplish, since then I have met so many great folks both on the Board, just great Islanders and the City of Newport Beach City staff. Thank you all for putting your trust in me to lead your Association and help make these Islands to be an even more magical place.

Larry Kallastad

Director
BIIA Membership
Bridge Flags

My wife Pam and I have lived on the Island since 2002 when we moved from Torrance into the home they built on Opal Avenue. We have been married sixty-one years, and have a son and daughter who have graced us with two granddaughters and two grandsons.

I retired in 2000 after thirty-six years with the Los Angeles Police Department, having been a homicide detective twenty six years and a homicide detail supervisor for twenty-two of those. I'm in my second term as a Director, handling Membership duties, and managing the flags on the bridge. I believe the Association makes a tremendous contribution to Island life, making it a much richer experience to live and work here. Without the BIIA, it would not be the vital community it is.

Joe McElroy (Joe Mac)

Director
Technology, BIIA Website
Social Media

I'm an Orange County California native and never strayed from my beach roots, and my deep passion for art and design. I'm a family man, surfer, entrepreneur and Creative Director, you can catch me in the sun on the Voyagers Boat Rentals dock on Balboa Island.

Scott Mehlberger

Director
Tree Lighting Festivities

I've lived on the island since 2018 and have spent the majority of my life in Orange County, with the exception of a three-year work-related tour in the bay area and college in San Diego. I grew up and also raised my family in Tustin. I have two sons; one lives in the bay area and one's here in Newport. Professionally, I work in corporate finance.

My involvement with the BIIA began at the Royal Hen years ago, when Jack Callahan was seeking pancake breakfast volunteers for the next morning. What was an easy answer that evening after a glass of wine turned into a 5:30am wake up ... and ultimately the introduction to many wonderful people who I'm blessed to now call friends.

Leslie Myers

Associate Director
Parade

I was born at Hoag Hospital in Newport Beach and didn't wander far from there. I lived in West Newport until around the age of 20. I went to Newport Elementary on the beach and had no idea how lucky I was. I graduated from Newport Harbor High School and then moved to Costa Mesa and then on to Fountain Valley where I raised my family. We love spending time with our grand kids whenever possible and making memories for them on the Island as my Grandma did while living on the Island on Agate street. I am so grateful to be back on the Island living in paradise.

Lee Pearl

Local Government Liaison
Light Pole Challenge

Ten year resident with my wife Sue. Past President BIIA, and currently the Local Government Liaison for the Island I also coordinate the General Island Meetings. # Senior Life

by Diane Mondini, Caring Companions At Home

CLEANING TIPS TO HELP YOU SPRING INTO ACTION

Spring Cleaning is a great way to usher in the new season. A “good tidying up” has many positive benefits. A clean home reduces allergies and improves concentration. If you happen to be one of the 77% Americans who suffer from stress, you might find cleaning helpful in relieving anxiety and stress.

While stress and overwhelming emotions are among the day-to-day realities we face during the pandemic, we must remember that, for older adults, long periods of isolation can be even more traumatic. According to the American Geriatrics Society, lack of cognitive stimulation can exacerbate the need to stockpile and accumulate things, making spring cleaning and regular decluttering a necessity for seniors and families who wish to help their seniors stay safe at home. From simple justifications to sentimental reasons, things can accumulate fast. The emotional need to make a purchase or take items home simply because it is free contributes to the clutter cycle that drains seniors emotionally, financially, and physically.

Helping older adults need not be overwhelming. Here are some helpful tips that may make the process a little easier this year:

A Little Goes A Long Way

Cleaning can quickly become overwhelming without a strategy. Start with a Spring Clean Plan and a Checklist. Take your time and tackling one or two tasks each day will make sorting and cleaning feel more manageable. The results from the tasks you complete each day will help motivate you and keep you focused on the next task on your list. Enlist the help of family members and professional caregivers who can make sure to keep the experience positive. Cleaning out the refrigerator, pantry, and medicine cabinet are essential items to include in your list. Checking smoke and carbon monoxide detectors and changing batteries each season are good practices to adopt.

Work Smart

While creating a safer environment is the goal, follow general safety precautions while getting the spring cleaning done. Avoid possible falls by using dusters that have an “extender” to help clean the spots that are difficult to reach. Refrain from climbing ladders and stools. Other useful tools include a cordless vacuum, an appropriately sized broom, and a standing dustpan. Make it a fun “family” event and schedule different family members to take turns helping with each area. If enlisting the help of family members and close friends is not an option, a professional caregiver, even with 3 to 4 hours each week, can do wonders to lighten the load of spring cleaning and decluttering. They would also be able to help in other areas of your loved one’s daily activities, such as safety supervision, healthy meal planning and preparation, and household chores like linen change and laundry.

Clear Out The Clutter

Create an activity out of sorting. Sort items by using bins or boxes that are pre-labeled “to keep” or “for donation.” Keep the mood positive with your senior loved one. There is no need to make them feel bad about having accumulated “things” throughout the years.

Encourage them to talk about the items and allow them to tell the stories that are associated with the memories. You just might learn more history and fun facts about your senior. By planning it out, using bins, and sorting the clutter, you will start to distinguish what you truly need versus the things that can be donated or given away. Bins that hold items that are needed often, should be easily accessible by the senior.

Some craft supplies, holiday decorations and gardening items may be stored on the higher shelf. Make sure to keep pathways clear of too many items. Area rugs are huge safety hazards for seniors and need to be removed or secured to the floor.

When You Can’t Decide

If you or your senior loved one find yourselves with a box of miscellaneous items and you simply can’t decide what to do with it, shut the box and put it aside. Set a 3-month deadline and mark your calendar. Keep the box closed and donate it to your local charity without looking. Feel free to apply this to reading materials, toys, and clothes that you swear you would wear or fit into someday.

I Remember When...

Feeling emotionally attached to photographs and keepsakes most certainly makes it difficult to part with them. Fortunately, technology now presents new options for storage and archival. Whether you choose a professional photo scanning service or take the time to do it yourself, digitizing old photographs will give you the benefit of preservation, organization, and accessibility. It’s also a great way to maximize your storage space at home. If space is still an issue due to family memorabilia, consider photographing the keepsakes and documenting them in a scrapbook before giving them to younger members of the families. Some items may also be donated to museums, libraries, and historical societies, where the stories and memories can be shared and enjoyed by more generations to come.

Island Biz-Buzz

by Cynthia Shafer, President - Balboa Island Merchant's Association

Great new things are happening and positive upgrades to our beautiful downtown area are in full swing. You may have noticed some of the benches on Marine have been refurbished. Over the next months the remainder of the benches on Marine will be redone as well.

The black tree grates will also be assessed and will be added over the course of the next year, reducing dirt from tree wells and making our street even prettier. In summer, extra trash cans will be added to accommodate the increased volume of tourists.

I greatly appreciate everyone who wrote in to City Council to support outdoor dining. We are working with the City to hopefully make this happen and continue outdoor dining this summer. There is nothing better than eating under the stars and seeing the world and your neighbors stroll by!

We have many new exciting additions to Marine

We are all thrilled to have Huskins now open, and I have been greatly enjoying their fantastic organic cold brew. The owners, Kent and Bri, are lovely people and the space they created is beautiful, bright and welcoming. Stop by and see the super friendly Julia and her crew and try their signature Lavender or Hometown

Latte and some fantastic Avocado Toast or a waffle on a stick. They will be adding delicious salads, sandwiches and menu items soon.

Hjom has moved into the front space at 308 Marine and created a beautiful home and lifestyle store. Co-owners Rachel Morrison and Katie Lang are “thrilled to expand to the little front cottage and provide more unique finds for our wonderful community”. The space looks lovely.

At Just Basics at 313 Marine, their beautiful green awning is now up and creates such a beautiful entryway. In addition to their clothing collection, they have added a back room with unique home goods and gifts.

Blu Canoe has moved to the old firehouse where owner Kelly will now offer beautiful furniture and a design center in addition to their beautiful home accessories.

Across the street at 332 Marine, Lauri Wax will open Pearls, a sister store to her loved Pasadena Boutique. Lauri says it was a dream of hers to open a store here that reminds her of childhood days spent sailing with her dad and eating Balboa Bars. She will offer the island women a unique quality collection from around the world that compliments our community’s lifestyle.

The HuseSkelly Gallery at 229 Marine, has expanded to the space next door to offer more room for workshops and exhibits and Lisa Skelly will carry even more beautiful Plein Air art from renowned artists around the globe. Debra Huse and Mary Hardesty Realty bring us the 27th annual Art Walk on Sunday, May 15th on the South Bayfront from 9:00-5:00. Come out and enjoy art, music, sun and fun for the whole family. I may even be there selling her T-shirts. There is a great energy on Marine right now and I hope you come down and experience it for yourself.

| 2 (4-oz.) cans diced green chiles         | ¼ c. sour cream                                     |
| 4 c. coarsely shredded rotisserie chicken |   |
| 1 (16-oz.) ctn. salsa verde, divided      |   |

Preheat oven to 375°. Lightly oil a 9 x 13-inch baking dish or coat with nonstick spray. Heat canola oil in a large skillet over medium heat. Add onion and cook, stirring frequently, until translucent, about 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in garlic, oregano and cumin until fragrant, about 1 minute. Remove from heat; stir in green chiles. In a large bowl, combine green chile mixture, chicken, ½ cup salsa verde and cilantro. Stir in 1 ½ cups cheese; season with salt and pepper to taste. To assemble enchiladas: Lay tortilla on a flat surface and spoon ½ to ¾ cup of the chicken mixture in the center. Roll the tortilla and place seam side down onto prepared baking dish. Repeat with remaining tortillas and chicken mixture. Top with remaining salsa verde and remaining 1 ½ cups cheese. Place into oven and bake until bubbly, about 35 to 40 minutes. Serve immediately, topped with dollops of sour cream.

Barbara Abbott

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| 1 c. milk                                 | 1 ½ c. grated imported Parmesan cheese (or ¼ Parmesan, ½ Gruyere) + an additional ½ c. grated Parmesan to top puffs (opt.) |
| 8 T. (1 stick) sweet butter               |  |
| 1 tsp. salt                               |  |
| 1 c. sifted unbleached, all-purpose flour |  |
| 5 eggs                                    |  |

Combine milk, butter and salt in a small saucepan and bring to a boil. Remove pan from heat and add the flour all at once. Whisk vigorously for a few moments, then return the pan to medium heat and cook, stirring constantly, until the batter has thickened and is pulling away from the sides and bottom of the pan, 5 minutes or less. Again remove pan from the heat and stir in 4 eggs, one at a time, making certain the first egg is completely incorporated before adding the second. Then stir in the cheese or cheeses. Preheat oven to 375°. Lightly butter a baking sheet. Drop the batter by tablespoons onto baking sheet, spacing the puffs at least 1 inch apart. Beat remaining egg in a small bowl. Brush the tops of the puffs with the beaten egg and sprinkle with additional Parmesan if you use it. Set baking sheet on the center rack of the oven, reduce heat to 350° and bake for 15 to 20 minutes or until gougères are puffed and well browned. Serve immediately. Makes about 20 puffs.

| Dash of salt         | 9-inch pie crust (bottom only) |
| 1 c. dark corn syrup |                                |

Heat oven to 350°. Line pan with pie crust. Beat eggs with sugar, salt, corn syrup and melted butter. Add pecans. Bake at 350° for 55 to 60 minutes. To test whether the pie is done, give it a shake. It should only jiggle slightly.

Christine Tillett

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| 1 head cauliflower, cut into ½-1 inch florets                       | ¼ c. olive oil (I don't measure, make sure the florets are well coated) |
| ½ c. fresh bread crumbs (I used gluten free by Alela's)             | Salt & pepper, to taste   |
| ¼ c. freshly grated Parmesan (I don't measure, I'm sure I use more) |   |

Preheat oven to 400°. Toss florets with olive oil, bread crumbs and cheese. Spread in a single layer on jelly roll sheet lined with nonstick foil. Season with salt and pepper (since I use a lot of cheese I often don't need the salt). Roast 30 to 40 minutes, until nicely browned (we like ours very browned).

Hometown Airline Fondly, Rowdily Recalled

AirCal panel drew the largest-ever crowd to museum.
Larry Button, Scott Bergey, Susan Riddle, Roger Nilson and Wayne Chase

Heading north on Marine Avenue, it seemed a typical Thursday night on the island – but a right hand turn into 210 Marine Ave., revealed something else, something fun, was going on.

“Could have sold a ton more tickets, Balboa island Museum Newport Beach Executive Director Tiffany Pepys Hoey said, but you know, the fire marshal is just up the street.”

The event was formally titled, “The AirCal Speaker Panel.” Nothing formal about it. It was a joyous, raucous evening of stories and memories of AirCal alums, recalling a magical time from 1967-1987, the era of Newport Beach’s ‘hometown airline.’

Susan Riddle and the AirCal Gals

Pepys hatched idea for AirCal exhibit, Lyon and Foster helped it take flight

“Ran into someone a few days after at Balboa Bay Club, Museum Chairman Shirley Pepys said. They told me ‘You brought the fun back to Newport Beach.’” “Was like a comedy show with stories of how airlines were managed in the 70s and 80’s. Rich Fischbeck asked if they had a Sexual Harassment Policy Handbook -- biggest laugh of the night.”

It was Pepys idea to fete the AirCal story at the museum – the exhibit went live in The Gallery in March knowing the airline still had a strong following in Orange County. And she knew both owners, General William Lyon and George Argyros.

“What a superb event last night,” Lyon Air Museum President Mark Foster wrote Pepys the next day. Foster attended with Bill H. Lyon, the late General’s son. The Air Museum supplied much of the memorabilia for the exhibit.

Legend goes that five Corona del Mar businessmen founded Air California over dinner in January 1967. They included Developer William Myers and Architect William Pereira. In the mid-70s the airline fell into the swashbuckling hands of San Diego Industrialist C. Arnholt Smith, original owner of the San Diego Padres, and then fell into bankruptcy.

Argyros and Lyon bought Air California out of bankruptcy in 1981, re-branded it AirCal, and sold it six years later to American Airlines, Inc. for a handsome profit – one of countless stories recounted during the evening.

“At one point they needed a 10% giveback—bad financial straits, they said ‘if you give us $1, we’ll give you $1.50 back.’ Son-of-a gun, two years later they handed every single one of us a personal check at a dinner, Riddle said.”

Riddle moderated the panel, in uniform, and was joined by pilots Larry Bufton, Scott Bergey, Roger Nilson and Wayne Chase.

“Those 21 years, for the majority of us, contain many of our most precious and dopamine generating stories,” Riddle said.

The AirCal exhibit will be up through the spring

Maiden voyage was to San Francisco, $14.85...plus tax

“To me, it seemed like an old movie where the psychiatrist can help the patient conjure up an old memory and then the floodgates burst, Stewardess and Balboa Island Resident, Susan Riddle said. We seemed to have a collective bursting of the memory dam.”

Was more than a reunion. After all, the AirCal gang has lots of reunions – from every year, for 55 years, on the anniversary of the airline’s founding, to weekly pilots’ confabs down in Dana Point. But half this crowd weren’t even members of the AirCal Fraternity, most likely former customers, also channeling the joie-de-vie of a bygone era.

Newport Harbor to be temporarily drained

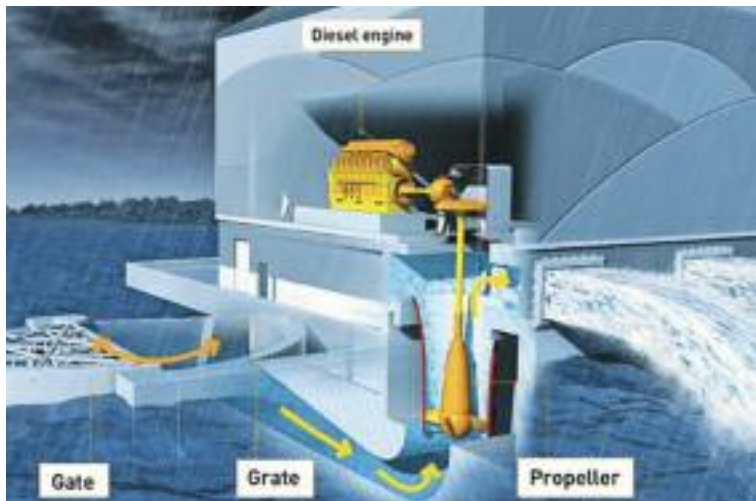

by Ken Yonkers

As reported in the Stu News, The Harbor Commission voted 6-0-1 with Commissioner Ira Cerveza abstaining, to move forward with their dredging project. The vote was waiting for the final Environmental Impact Report. While it sounds a bit preposterous, they will dig a large hole and place the dredged contaminated waste in it. They then cover it with “clean” material over the waste to protect and create a sealing barrier.

“This project has been in the works for a long time”, said Harbor Commission Chair Skipjack Kenney. “It has support from other agencies to move forward and we have the funding.”

We talked with Newport Harbor Master, Paul Blankchek. “To really fix this issue once and for all, we will essentially drain the harbor of approximately 60% of its water. We estimate we can complete the necessary shore dredging in only 7 days. This will allow for proper dredging and machinery to operate where there is usually water.”

The City is requesting all owners of boats on docks loosen their lines at least 6 feet to allow their boat to lower when the tide water is pumped out. City crews will be on hand to loosen dock lines for owners who may have forgotten.

Harbor Resources Manager, Chris Millerthyme, said the city will request all vessels over 40 feet to temporarily leave the harbor. All others will be provided with “boat stilts” if necessary, to prop up their boats from the drastically lower tides. Chris stated, “This is especially important for sailboats with keels. We don’t want them to get damaged if they touch ground.”

The project is slated to commence September 1 of this year. “We asked them to wait until the harbor’s busy summertime was over, reports Newport Chamber President, Steve Rosanadanna. “However they must commence prior to December 31 of this year to qualify for federal funding.”

A similar project was done in Denmark with apparent great success. Crews will seal the harbor entrance and large pumps will extract the water out of the harbor. It will take approximately 14 hours to remove the necessary amount of water.

It is estimated approximately 40% of the harbor’s sea life will not make it through this. Marine Biologists will be on hand to assist any struggling sea life, along with students from UCI’s Coastal and Marine Science Department. “Dying sea life is unfortunate but a small price to pay for the improvement of the Harbor” says Councilman Noa Boomer. The City will also get an opportunity to evaluate the eel grass and will be responsible for replanting in areas where the dredging may damage. Some Newport Beach dock owners expressed concern. One such resident, Rob McCashfree, exclaimed, “This is an outrage. I have tremendous liability and worry for my numerous dock tenants’ boats. There is going to be some angry boat owners if their vessels are damaged. They pay me good money to keep their boats on my dock and they assume their boats are safe.”

With the water drained, enough sand will be able to be dredged in a short period of time all around Balboa Island and Lido Island. “We won’t need to worry about sand replacement for about another 15 years” says Richie Cunningham, Vice Chair of the Harbor Commission. He further reported to put the sand in place, there will be high mounds of sand. It is estimated some Bayfront home’s views will be partially obstructed, however that should only take the about 24 months for the weather and environment to flatten it out to an acceptable level.

Paul Blankchek said “This really gives us a chance to clean up the harbor. We will remove many items that have fallen into the bay. The Drone Scientific Company says they have identified 5,762 cell phones in the harbor; they are aiming to recover 83% of them. A recent study on tourism estimated the harbor’s worth to the City of over $202 million. The harbor generates $46 million in annual tax revenue to the city. Harbor visitors also directly spend an additional $156 million in the city each year, the study determined. Councilman William O’Neily was quoted, “We need to invest in our harbor. The harbor is the jewel of our City and the epicenter for so much of what defines the Newport Beach experience.”

M E M B E R S H I P

by Larry Kallestad

The surge of members joining the Association since the invitation to join in November of last year, has swelled our membership to a record for this time of year. With that, the activities of the BIIA are back as well. We will be able to once again enjoy and participate in BIIA activities. The BIIA Board of Directors and many volunteers are eagerly planning to bring enjoyed activities back to the Community.

For the members who are owners that live off Island and have received The Island Bridge publication by USPS mail, issues will be delivered to them by EMAIL. There are over 160 off-islanders in this category. This will result in a significant savings of BIIA funds since each issue cost around $1.40, not including the printing costs. This group of membership will be the first to receive each edition.

As mentioned earlier, there are several programs and activities we are now able to bring to our Community, and your volunteering to help with them is always welcomed. Take a look at the enclosed page with the activities and listed committees, choose the ones that would be fun for you to help out with, call the person listed as the contact for the function, then join in the fun. It is very rewarding.
